

LOOKING FOR MR. RIGHT 2024

We're doing it again! Our first stud dog event in 2023 was small, but deemed a huge success, so let's make it even bigger this year!

Our seminar last year was on Preservation Breeding and speaker (and extremely successful breeder) Doug Johnson discussed the importance of having stud dog events at National Specialties so breeders have a hands-on chance to see what is out there for their consideration. He also came in to check out what we were doing and was quite enthusiastic.

While we did not have a lot of dogs available, those who took advantage of this opportunity did impressive displays with pictures and information to showcase their boys. We hope for more this year.

Looking For Mr. Right will be indoors during the National on Tuesday evening May 7th. There is no charge to participate with your dog or to come in to view what's there. Hors d'oeuvres and a cash bar will be available. The turnout for people coming to check it out last year was great, the comments were excellent, and the expectations voiced were that now that people understood what it was about, going forward it should be a popular and useful event.

There is a link here to use to sign up your boys. They must be at least one year old at the time of the event. Bring pedigrees, health clearances, and any other info or pictures you would like to share, and while a big display is not necessary, it is impressive. We will have a table for Frozen Assets where pedigrees, information, and pictures of available dogs' frozen semen can be placed if the dog itself is not available to be seen.

We look forward to seeing lots of you at this important event, and hope this opportunity will be well taken advantage of by both those with dogs, and those looking for Mr. Right for their girls!
